How we work

Parthos delivers quality in all disciplines and therefore also in cooperation with you! The entire process from the elaboration of your concept to production, the logistical process, storage, distribution and transport to assembly on location lies in the hands of Parthos. This results in shorter production times at the factory and faster installation on site. These processes are helping us to stay on time and therewith to control the cost aspect.

Do you want to know best? You can find us every-where! In addition to the production facilities in Panningen, we also have our own production facilities in Bangkok and Shanghai. We are operating within a huge network of distributors and collaborators. The assembly of Parthos B.V. works world-wide with our own specialized interior assembly teams.

How does it work? You just make a call or e-mail us. Let us make the proper questions and guide you through all the process. This is not a product that you are buying, this is a project you are building! And you should have a team of skilled people to take you by the hand and make you feel safe through all the process. Let us turn the anxiety into a safe and enjoyable experience!

Materials - Production

At Parthos you will not have unpleasant surprises. The only surprise should be your beautiful product.

What are our materials and what can we do? Processing and finishing of plastic, steel, laminate, wood and veneer are only the first steps. Do you need this extra touch of modern design? We also work with himacs, corian, artificial marble, alucobond, PET felt etc. Think of an object or an installation and we can build it. Our goal is not just to deliver your project but to deliver it perfectly! The devil is hidden in the details and we will make sure he does not appear.

But our work does not end there. The added value of our space solutions is not only reflected in the quality of our end products, but also in the quality of our level of after sales service. The responsibility we feel towards our customers does not end after delivery of a good end product. Even after the successful conclusion of a product, you can always count on us. When for example a certain space- layout is no longer suitable and needs to be changed, we can often re-optimize by re-arranging the existing elements. This is a good idea, not only with a view to sustainability but also a consideration for your own wallet. To put it briefly, our responsibility for your optimum use of space does not end after delivery of one of our products. A durable and space-saving solution also means a durable and caring service!

Style

Attention to

Functionality

Certifications

More than 50 years of knowledge and experience combined with the very latest production techniques and our own R&D department has resulted in a range of products that are truly durable and of the highest quality. Reason enough why Parthos was the very first company in this segment to be awarded an ISO 9001 certificate in movable walls! In addition to this certificate Parthos has also achieved ISO 14001 and VCA* certificate.

For years, the required wood for the production of mobile walls and the interior contracting of PARTHOS has been obtained in an environment-friendly and responsible manner. Furthermore, in 2015 Parthos B.V. obtained the international and independent FSC-C124545 certificate which ensures that the resources for wood and paper products come from responsibly managed forests. By using FSC-wood, Parthos contributes to the preservation of forests and a healthy global living environment for people and animals alike.

We also are committed to using as many local materials as possible on the bases of 100% recyclability and non-toxicity. Parthos has developed a fully integrated resource conserving and energy saving manufacturing process and uses material efficiency strategies such as dimensional planning to reduce the amount of building materials needed and cut construction costs. Waste separation and categorization are integrated into our everyday activities. By deriving fuel from waste Parthos even partly generates its own energy! That's why Parthos became member of the Dutch Green Building Council. Because we see it as our ecological responsibility to participate in this ongoing process of sustainability.
